Abstract

The Allison and Snyder Collection documents the coaching careers of University of Texas men's tennis coaches Wilmer Allison and David Snyder. Wilmer Allison began coaching at UT in 1938 as an assistant to Daniel A. Penick, and became head coach in 1957. David Snyder was a UT tennis player from 1952-1956 and became head coach in 1973 after Allison's retirement. The collection is composed of athletic records, personal papers, books, scrapbooks, audiovisual material, and photographic material spanning the years 1903-2000. The collection showcases the administrative culture and coaching efforts of Allison and Snyder as they built and managed the men's tennis team. It documents the team's progress season by season, highlighting both top players and the overall achievements of UT men's tennis.

Biographical Note

Wilmer Lawson Allison

Wilmer Lawson Allison was born in San Antonio, Texas on December 8, 1904. He was the second son of Dr. and Mrs. Wilmer L. Allison. His father was a psychiatrist and the superintendent of the San Antonio Sanitarium. His mother was a homemaker. After his birth, the family moved to Fort Worth where his father became the Superintendent of the Arlington Heights Sanitarium. Wilmer graduated from Fort Worth Central High School.

While growing up in Arlington, Wilmer Allison learned to play tennis at the private Meadowmere Club tennis courts on Pershing Avenue. In addition to playing tennis, Wilmer, a talented amateur baseball player, was offered a spot on the Texas League Beaumont city team upon graduating from high school. His father, focused on Wilmer's education, did not allow him to join the team.

Wilmer enrolled at the University of Texas at Austin in 1925. At UT, he played tennis under the tutelage of Daniel A. Penick. The father of Texas Tennis, Dr. Penick, joined UT in 1900 as a Greek and Latin instructor. Additional to his teaching duties, Penick coached the UT tennis team, and served in that role for fifty-six years.

In 1927, Wilmer Allison won the Intercollegiate Singles Championship. In 1929 and 1930, Allison won the Wimbledon doubles title with partner John Van Ryn. In 1934, Allison was ranked number-one tennis player in the United States. In 1934-35, he won the United States National Open Championship defeating Fred Perry in the semifinals and then Sydney Wood for the title. With Van Ryn, he won National Doubles in 1931 and 1935 and finished second in 1930, 1932, 1934, and 1936. From 1928 to 1937, Allison also competed for the United States in the Davis Cup competition. In 1937, he retired as a tennis player.

From 1938 to 1941, Allison worked as Penick's coaching assistant. In 1941, he left to join the Army Air Corps where he achieved the rank of colonel. From 1947 to 1957, he served again as Penick's assistant. In 1957, he became the head tennis coach at the University of Texas at Austin and coached the team until his retirement in 1972. During his tenure, he instituted a policy that reserved tennis scholarships for Texas players. His teams won four Southwest Conference team championships, three singles titles, and one doubles title. He died in 1977.

David Snyder was born on December 14, 1934 in Wichita, Kansas. He attended Winfield High School, where he made the quarterfinals at the United States Tennis Association national junior tournament and became a two-time state singles champion. Reportedly, Snyder never lost a set during his high school tennis career. After graduating from Winfield in 1952 he enrolled at the University of Texas on a tennis scholarship. He enjoyed considerable success as part of UT's tennis team, winning three straight championships at the Southwest Conference (1954-1956) as well as second place in the 1955 NCAA tournament. In 1956, Snyder was made captain of the Texas squad.

After graduating from the University of Texas in 1956, Snyder played tennis in the national clay and grass court circuit, where he was ranked the twenty-second player nationally in singles (1956), and, along with Ronnie Fisher in 1960, tenth in doubles.

Snyder's coaching career began in 1958 at the University of Arizona, where he spent thirteen years as head coach of the men's tennis team after taking over from Coach C. Zaner Leshner. The Wildcats' record was 161-48 in dual-matches during Snyder's reign. While at the University of Arizona, Snyder completed a Master's Degree and in 1969 he earned a Ph.D. from Ohio State University. In 1973, he left Arizona to accept a head coaching position at his alma mater, the University of Texas at Austin. Snyder was the third head tennis coach at the University of Texas, following Wilmer Allison and Penick. During Snyder's tenure as a coach, the UT men's tennis team made the NCAA tournament twenty-two times.

The Longhorns won nine conference championships (including the first three in the Big 12) during this period, as well as over seventy-five percent of the dual matches over all. Snyder also coached the U.S. Junior Davis Cup Team in 1962 and received a number of awards for his coaching excellence, including the International Tennis Coaching Association Coach of the Year award in 1985. At the time of his retirement on July 5, 2000, Snyder's coaching efforts had made him the most accomplished collegiate tennis coach in Division I history. During his forty-two year career as head coach, his win-loss record totaled 697-226 in dual-matches, and he had guided thirty-three All-Americans at the University of Arizona and the University of Texas. Post-retirement, Snyder won two national age-group racquetball singles championships.

Snyder's coaching career was nationally lauded, and he has been inducted into the Texas Tennis Hall of Fame (1987), the University of Texas Hall of Honor (1988), the Missouri Valley Hall of Fame (1993), the Intercollegiate Tennis Association Hall of Fame (2001), the Texas Tennis Coaches Association Hall of Fame (2005), and the University of Kansas Sports Hall of Fame (2012).

Scope and Content

The Wilmer Allison and David Snyder Collection: 7 Boxes, 2 Oversized Photo Boxes, 13 Scrapbook Boxes, 1 Flat File, 238 Folders, 1903-2000, undated (5,873 items)

This collection documents the coaching careers of Wilmer Allison and David Snyder during their respective University of Texas men's tennis team head coaching careers. It contains a variety of materials related to administrative duties and team management, including correspondence, student-athlete files, administrative ledgers, practice and match schedules, records of match scores, newspaper clippings, University of Texas tennis ephemera including brochures and programs, photographic materials, audiovisual materials, and scrapbooks.

The collection is divided into two series: one comprising Wilmer Allison's papers, spanning from 1903 through 1972, and one covering David Snyder's papers, ranging from 1949 to 2000.

Allison's papers include correspondence with student-athletes, player performance records, scholarship and admission information, 17 ledgers containing financial information on the purchase and maintenance of tennis equipment as well as match
